QESST STUDENT LEADERSHIP COUNCIL

QESST Support of the SLC
QESST education team and industrial liaison works with the SLC to provide the resources they need and want:

- Contributing to the development of a subset of the skill sets of the university education program, including
  - Team work, self-directed learners, and crossing the finish line by providing them with their own budget, autonomy in the structure and function of the SLC, and supporting their decisions and direction.
  - Communication – through the communications committee, presentation feedback, and perfect pitch competition supported by the SLC faculty advisor and industry liaison.
  - Research Leadership, Innovation, Knowledge of Industrial Practice – through support of the industrial liaison, and support given the Industry and Innovation committees.

Maintaining a intra-peer support network that enhances research productivity by

- Development of an Onboarding video to assist in orientation for new QESST students
- Fostering peer-peer learning of technical and general research skills
- Fostering collaboration and sharing expectations
- Developing a sense of embeddedness within the broader QESST community
- Supporting the emergence of perpetual personal and professional networks
- LinkedIn: QESST Industry Partner–Student Internship Network
- Facebook: QESST Scholar Facebook Page

SLC Aims in Support of QESST

1. Developing principled engineering and research leaders
2. Building research and career pathways with industry
   - Planning and coordinating industry mixers, career panel discussions, mock interviews
3. Engaging communities for solar education
   - Supporting education and outreach programs
   - Mentoring Young Scholars and Undergraduate Researchers
   - Providing a network of international educational opportunities.

SLC Organizational Structure

The SLC uses a committee-based organization structure to distribute leadership responsibility and workload.

SLC Network Building

The industrial liaison, at the request of the SLC, maintains a LinkedIn group for professional networking and the SLC maintains a Facebook page for social networking.
